Minister Pike's visit

Last Friday the Minister for Education, Bronwyn Pike, visited our school to celebrate National Tree Planting Day. Chris Burgess our Environmental Education specialist and the students showed her all of the planting that has been done at Carlton PS over recent years as well as our chickens and vegetable garden. The Minister was most impressed with what she saw and we hope that she is able to come back and visit us again soon.

Don't forget breakfast

Too many children are coming to school without breakfast. Eating a healthy breakfast ensures that children have the energy they need to learn and play.

Safe shoes for school

For safety reasons, laced or buckled school shoes or runners are the best footwear for school. Children of all ages run, jump and play games during break times as well as during PE lessons every Monday. Children are less likely to trip and hurt themselves if they are wearing this type of shoe. Thongs, open toed sandals and ugg boots are not safe footwear and are not to be worn to school.

The Drum Youth Services

As I explained in a recent newsletter, Drummond Street Relationship Centre is now running the youth services for Carlton. Some of these new services will take place in the area under the school. A working bee last weekend has cleaned and brightened up the space and it is now ready to start programs. The back of this newsletter has information about the girls program which will run every Wednesday afternoon. Parents who want to know more about the service or talk about some of their ideas for supporting young people in Carlton, are welcome to visit the service through the Palmerston Street entry.
