Aged between 3 and 50, the members of 7 training circus communities present seven short works about Hope. Accompanied by the highly talented Westside band, 8 new circus directors offer up wild, personal and fantastic visions. Some of the participants in our Rotary Youth Physical Arts Project will be participating in their first public performance.

The Rotary Youth Physical Arts Project is supported by The City of Yarra - Arts and Cultural Services Unit – Yarra Youth Services, The Rotary Clubs of Richmond and Collingwood, Youth Substance Abuse Service (YSAS), Collingwood Youth Centre, Jesuit Social Services – Gateway, North Richmond Community Health Centre, North Yarra Community Health Centre, Visionary Images

Westside Circus began in 1995 as a small program within the Moonee Valley City Council, providing circus, music and drama workshops for young offenders and long-term unemployed young people. Ten years later, the program has expanded to service a wide range of children and young people who live, work or recreate in Melbourne. In 2004, Westside circus moved into its own venue in Fitzroy. The Westside Circus joined with Dancehouse and the Centre for Contemporary Photography to focus on the most disadvantaged young people within the City of Yarra.
