

The RVTravelau forum is for the benefit of all our members:

In order to keep the forum running well, please follow these simple rules. If you have any questions or problems, please feel free to contact one of the Moderators.

Purpose of the forum

The purpose is to share, help and support other members in a way that enables us to enjoy our caravanning, campervanning and motorhoming to the fullest.

The new Yahoo group has been born out of the MSN public forum experience, and these terms and conditions are similar to what you would expect to agree to when you join any formal association or club.

By being a member of this group, we will pass on any benefits that we can, such as special offers on insurance and other goods and services.

We are doing this to try and provide the benefits that an association which charges an annual fee might provide, but with this group, there are no fees.

Your Personal Details

You will be asked for personal details prior to membership being approved by cutting and pasting the form at the end of these conditions. Please complete the form and email to joinrvtravelau@gmail.com

This will signify your acceptance.

Moderators will keep a database of this information. These details will be known only to the moderators who give a firm undertaking that your privacy will be respected, and that the information contained in the database will NOT be sold, or given freely to any person or corporation anywhere.

To put it in simple terms, we are fair dinkum about this forum and if you are too, you have to be prepared to tell us who you really are, and trust us with this information. In return, we promise not to violate that trust.

The moderators are under no obligation to accept membership applications.

Overall Community Attitude

Be respectful of others' opinions.

Allow your fellow members to voice their opinions.

Do not deliberately start arguments. Debates are great, as long as they remain respectful!

Always try to "give back" to our community. For each time you find help or answers here, try to help someone else out in return. You may find that what goes around comes around...

Give people a little time to respond to your requests. Please be patient.

Do not just make a negative statement and leave the person hanging out to dry. Take it easy on your fellow members!

Do not make threats or implied threats towards other members -- even if you think it's fun.

It is essential that every member contributes "regularly" in a positive way to the forum. This does not mean that every member needs to make a certain number of posts every week. It does mean that if a member doesn't make a single constructive post every month or so, they will be regarded as "observers." All you have to do is, for example, let us know where you have been on your last trip, or post a photo. Something short and sweet is all that is required.

We want a group of contributors not lurkers. If you don't contribute in some small way your ongoing membership may be questioned. Naturally, circumstances such as illness or overseas travel obviate the need to comply with this requirement.

Any information, photos, attachments and the like posted on this forum which are not your own, may not be copied and posted elsewhere on the Internet.

General Posting Rules

While debating and discussion is fine, we will not tolerate rudeness, insulting posts, personal attacks or purposeless inflammatory posts.

A Moderator's decision is final in these matters.

Management reserve the right to remove offensive posts without notice.

Management also reserve the right to ban anyone who willfully violates the forum rules.

Management reserves the right to take any actions we deem appropriate to ensure this forum is not disrupted or abused in any way.
